TAYLOR FORT WAYNE ALUMNUS

Fall 1996

COLLEGE FOR URBAN ENGAGEMENT

After much prayer and consideration, it has been decided to emphasize Taylor Fort Wayne's urban location and identify the Fort Wayne campus as the College for Urban Engagement. The name has not changed, but involvement in the community has.

The urban mind-set will provide a focus for current programs of study including providing students with opportunities for Christian service, ministry, student teaching, practicums and internships in the city. Students will also have many opportunities to take advantage of and learn from what the urban environment has to offer the students, such as, cultural opportunities, museums, the performing arts, etc. With the urban setting as the backdrop, Taylor Fort Wayne plans to use its programs of study as the stage for the University.

FRESHMEN PRACTICE THE VISION

The freshmen of TUFW have put into practice the vision of the Fort Wayne campus by going into the community to serve others.

On September 21, the class performed a service project for Habitat for Humanity and the West Central Neighborhood. The event, organized by student orientation director, Sarah Mathew g93, included cleaning yards, tearing out old cabinets, tearing down an old garage, washing windows, stripping wallpaper and scrubbing woodwork.

The project is just one of many to come as part of Taylor Fort Wayne's vision to go out into all the world.

INSTITUTE FOR THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION

Taylor University, Winebrenner Theological Seminary and Trinity Evangelical Divinity School, have joined together to provide graduate level courses from their respective institutions at a central location...Taylor Fort Wayne. A master of arts in religion, master of arts in theology, master of divinity or certificate in biblical studies are the degrees that are available.

The Institute's first graduate level courses were taught this summer and two courses are being offered this fall, with the format of instruction geared to meet the needs of its students. Beginning October 4, the Institute will conduct weekend graduate-level seminary courses. New Testament Literature and History will be offered this fall, while Old Testament Literature and History will be offered beginning February 8, 1997. To register or for more information contact Stephen Resch, associate dean for lifelong learning, at 219-456-2111.

FAMILY WEEKEND

Parents and families of current students, along with alumni and friends of Taylor University, are invited to participate in this year's Family Weekend, October 5 and 6.

Activities are planned that will meet the interests of all age groups. Events include: touring the campus and dorms, meeting Taylor's administration, celebrating the dedication of the Samuel Morris statue, attending the soccer game, joining in the silent auction and enjoying the student talent show. Whether a parent, sibling, alumnus or friend, there will be something for everyone!

SAMUEL MORRIS DEDICATION

Taylor University has seen many students from within the United States, as well as abroad, over her 150 years. But perhaps none has been as influential as Samuel Morris.

A native of Africa, Samuel became a Christian through the efforts of missionaries to his homeland. As a result of tribal warfare, he became a prisoner in his homeland. He miraculously escaped and to prevent further imprisonment he fled his country of Liberia and traveled to the United States. He learned of Taylor University and in 1892 he enrolled to pursue a ministry degree. While a student at Taylor, preparing to minister to others, Samuel in effect was ministering as he spoke the testimony of God in his life; as he shared the Word.

TUFW's October 5 Family Weekend will be sharing in Samuel's vision to reach the world for Christ as a statue will be dedicated in his memory. The sculpture is named Sharing the Word and is a visual memento depicting Samuel holding the Bible as he shared the Word. Taylor dedicates the statue in honor and memory of Samuel's sacrificial life and in celebration of Taylor's sesquicentennial.

SPIRITUAL EMPHASIS WEEK

Dr. Jay Kesler, president of Taylor University, was the featured speaker during spiritual emphasis week which kicked off the start of the new academic year. TWO HONORED AT ALUMNI BANQUET

The Fort Wayne Campus Alumni Council decided at its spring 1996 meeting to present two awards annually at the Alumni Banquet.

The "Distinguished Alumnus Award" will be presented each year to a Fort Wayne campus alumnus who has had outstanding personal or professional accomplishments and is recognized for Christian character. This award replaces the honorary membership in Delta Epsilon Chi (the honor society of the American Association of Bible Colleges) which was the main award for alumni of Fort Wayne Bible College. Over the years, 75 alumni had been inducted into Delta Epsilon Chi.

The "Distinguished Friend of the University Award" is a new award and seeks to honor those special friends of the college (non-alumni) who have demonstrated a special commitment to and love for the Fort Wayne campus.

DISTINGUISHED ALUMNUS

Dr. Grant Osborne, a member of the class of 1966, was recognized as the 1996 "Distinguished Alumnus of the Year." Grant and his wife, Nancy (Hardy) g67, live in Libertyville, Illinois, with their two children. Grant serves as professor of New Testament at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School in Illinois. He previously had taught at Winnipeg Theological Seminary and the University of Aberdeen in Scotland where he received his doctoral degree. Grant is a preacher, teacher, scholar and writer. He has written two books, coauthored two others, edited a number of commentaries, and served as one of six editors for the New Living Bible.

For his love for the Lord, his commitment to the clear understanding of God's Word, and his untiring efforts as a Christian scholar, the Alumni Association named Dr. Grant R. Osborne as its 1996 Distinguished Alumnus.

DISTINGUISHED FRIEND OF THE UNIVERSITY

Miss Mary Edith Reiff was recognized at the banquet as the 1996 "Distinguished Friend of the University." Her love of young people and her commitment to Christian higher education have resulted in great benefits for students and for the University. She has established three endowed scholarships: one for students who have graduated from South Side High School; one in memory of her parents, Lewis and Hazel Reiff; and one with the purpose of encouraging high school seniors to pursue a quality Christian higher education. She has assisted the University in numerous projects and currently has a vision for a prayer chapel where students will be able to worship and seek the Lord.

Miss Reiff is a native of Andrews, Indiana. She is a graduate of the University of Michigan with bachelor of science degrees in math and Latin, with additional course work in engineering and a master of arts degree in Latin. She began her teaching career in Evansville, Indiana, and then taught Latin for 25 years and chaired the Foreign Language Department at Fort Wayne's South Side High School. Over the years, she has received educational enrichment grants enabling her to pursue extensive studies in classical literature and culture, including a Fulbright Scholarship to the Birgelean Institute in Rome. Miss Reiff has also been awarded an honorary doctorate from our sister institution, Huntington College.
